

- - - - OUT NOW - - - -

LEEDS LAKES AND PONDS

ANTHONY SILSON

Local historian and geographer, ANTHONY SILSON, provides a fascinating look at how the various lakes, ponds, dams and reservoirs came to exist in Leeds. Where they are, who made them, for what purpose and which ones can still be found today

THE BOOK

Leeds Lakes and Ponds

Leeds is well known for its green spaces and nature reserves, but until this book its many stretches of water have not been well documented. Now Anthony Silson has put together a compendium of the lakes and ponds of Leeds. He notes that the majority have been created rather than occurring naturally and sets out the background and the history of key examples.

Anthony Silson has produced a study on an entirely new subject for research and it is an important addition to the local history and geography of Leeds.

Details:

Pages: 86

Format: A5, paperback

ISBN: 978-0-9930909-8-1

Price: £6.99 (plus £2.01 p&p)

Trade price: £4.20

THE AUTHOR

Anthony Silson has been a Leeds resident for most of his eighty plus years. He studied geography at the University of Liverpool and after obtaining a PGCE he taught teens geography in Barnsley, Bradford and Leeds.

He has written and published over thirty articles, including The Number of Days with Thunder Heard in Bramley, West Yorkshire 1962-2010 (2011), and Forced Rhubarb in West Yorkshire c.1852-2017 (2019). His published books include: The Making of the West Yorkshire Landscape (2003), The Green Spaces of Bramley (2006), and Bramley in West Yorkshire 1775 to 2020 (2020).

It was whilst writing The Making of the West Yorkshire Landscape that he realised just how many lakes there were in Leeds and how so many had been recently made.

How to order Leeds Lakes and Ponds

- Order from your favourite bookshop
- Order online via Amazon. Just go to: www.amazon.co.uk/dp/0993090982
- Order direct from us - email your order to: orders@beecroftpublications.co.uk, or ring 0113 257 6232. We can invoice you and/or you can collect directly from us in Leeds, with cash or cheque.

If you would like multiple copies, please contact us on orders@beecroftpublications.co.uk.

Find us at: www.beecroftpublications.co.uk